

LESSON PLAN Intra-personal

Activity	Learning Objectives
Think about the ending to the story - is it what the students would have wished? Brainstorm ideas for different endings.	Discuss and show comprehension of story-line through change
Choose an ending (either the original or one of the new ideas) and think about the "moral" of the story	Analyse the story and its "hidden" meaning
In groups, think about a situation where choices have to be made (right or wrong?) and what each choice would mean. Write one sentence for each choice giving the "moral".	Discuss importance of making right choice and predicting consequences
Pull together in whole class discussion the different situations, choices and morals and create chart on board and/or on paper for future activities	Evaluate each other's ideas
Famous tales - individually write down name of at least one tale with a moral (think of fables, myths, pantomimes etc), then whole class activity looking for ideas and discuss possible morals	Use skills to match morals to well-known stories
